14U HEAD COACH NICK DIORIO

Many people do not find the passion that drives them until later in their lives. For Nick Diorio, he found his life's passion at five years of age when he put on his first pair of hockey skates and has never looked back.

Nick immediately took to hockey and was a standout player from the get-go.

He played his youth hockey in the AYHL all the way through the Bantam level. Nick was a member of Team Connecticut and was honored as an invitee to the New England Development Camp.

From ages 15-19, Nick played junior hockey both with and against many future NCAA and NHL hockey players. Over his junior career, Nick registered over 100 points while learning key roles and concepts to succeed at the college level.

While playing junior hockey, Nick garnered the attention of scouts from several schools and ultimately chose Western New England University. Nick played 88 games over four years of NCAA hockey for the Golden Bears. Nick earned a reputation as a top defensive forward, solid playmaker, and a tenacious penalty killer.

While a current student of the game, Nick works equally hard off the ice on his education. Nick became a three-year member of the ECAC All-Academic team, maintaining a 3.4 GPA while competing in Varsity Hockey. He earned a degree in Finance in 2015 and has recently obtained his MBA maintaining a 3.8 GPA.

Nick is now in his tenth-year coaching with the Connecticut Chiefs where he has worked with many athletes who are now playing at the Junior, Prep, and College level.
